Description
The second international meeting on healthcare systems design research takes place at the DTU - Technical University of Denmark and focuses on growing our community. It builds on the first meeting that took place on November 29-30, 2018 in Cambridge, UK. The event is initiated and co-organised by the Cambridge Engineering Design Centre, University of Cambridge and Engineering Systems Division at DTU - Technical University of Denmark, in partnership also with The Healthcare Improvement Studies Institute (THIS).
Degree of recognition: International
