A method to join data from a National Travel Survey of individuals into travel behaviour of families – with the driving pattern of the household cars as an example. - DTU Orbit (06/03/2019)

Christensen, L 2014, A method to join data from a National Travel Survey of individuals into travel behaviour of families – with the driving pattern of the household cars as an example. in 10th International Conference on Transport Survey Methods. 10th International Conference on Transport Survey Methods, Sydney, Australia, 16/11/2014.