A methodological study of environmental simulation in architecture and engineering. Integrating daylight and thermal performance across the urban and building scales - DTU Orbit (17/01/2019)