A model for estimating particle concentration indoors – based on information from occupants’ questionnaires, indoor sources emission factors, outdoor concentration and building characteristics.