Combining asymmetrical flow field-flow fractionation with light-scattering and inductively coupled plasma mass spectrometric detection for characterization of nanoclay used in biopolymer nanocomposites - DTU Orbit (13/12/2018)

Research output: Research - peer-review › Journal article – Annual report year: 2009