Experimental investigation of the factors influencing the polymer-polymer bond strength during two-component injection moulding - DTU Orbit (05/05/2019)

Experimental investigation of the factors influencing the polymer-polymer bond strength during two-component injection moulding

Research output: Contribution to journal › Journal article – Annual report year: 2010 › Research › peer-review