Fish oil extracted from fish-fillet by-products is weakly linked to the extraction temperatures but strongly linked to the omega-3 content of the raw material - DTU Orbit (22/12/2018)

Fish oil extracted from fish-fillet by-products is weakly linked to the extraction temperatures but strongly linked to the omega-3 content of the raw material. / Honold, Philipp; Nouard, Marie-Louise; Jacobsen, Charlotte.

Research output: Research - peer-review › Journal article – Annual report year: 2015