Gram-negative bacteria account for main differences between faecal microbiota from patients with ulcerative colitis and healthy controls

Research output: Research - peer-review › Journal article – Annual report year: 2012