Integrating genome-based informatics to modernize global disease monitoring, information sharing, and response.