A method to join data from a National Travel Survey of individuals into travel behaviour of families – with the driving pattern of the household cars as an example.

Research output: Chapter in Book/Report/Conference proceeding › Article in proceedings – Annual report year: 2014 › Research › peer-review