A new moving finite element method based on quadratic approximation functions - DTU Orbit (14/08/2019)

A new moving finite element method based on quadratic approximation functions
Research output: Contribution to journal › Journal article – Annual report year: 1989 › Research › peer-review