Can smartphone-based electronic markers discriminate between patients with bipolar disorder, healthy first-degree relatives and healthy control individuals - DTU Orbit (10/11/2019)

Can smartphone-based electronic markers discriminate between patients with bipolar disorder, healthy first-degree relatives and healthy control individuals

Research output: Contribution to journal › Conference abstract in journal – Annual report year: 2017 › Research › peer-review