Comparison of objective and subjective measures of cochlear compression in normal-hearing and hearing-impaired listeners.