Does correlated color temperature affect the ability of humans to identify veins?