A cross contamination model was challenged and evaluated applying a new approach. • QMRA and Total Transfer Potential (TTP) were included. • Transfer estimates were not applicable for unlike processing. • The risk of disease may be reduced when using a stainless steel grinder. • Well-sharpened knife, and room temperatures lower than 4°C can be beneficial.