Individualized directional microphone optimization in hearing aids based on reconstructing the 3D geometry of the head and ear from 2D images