Lessons from the first generation of marine ecological forecast products