Monthly variation in the probability of presence of adult Culicoides populations in nine European countries and the implications for targeted surveillance - DTU Orbit (05/10/2019)

Monthly variation in the probability of presence of adult Culicoides populations in nine European countries and the implications for targeted surveillance