Performance, acute health symptoms and physiological responses during exposure to high air temperature and carbon dioxide concentration