Using BCF as a mediator for task management in building design